FEDERAL ELECTION PICTURE FADES OUT FOR SOME TIME

N. J. M. Lockhart, M.P., Does Not Believe There Will be a Vote For a Year or Possibly a Year And a Half.

A GOOD MEETING

Local Progressive - Conservatives Elect New Officers - Will Prepare For Any Forthcoming Eventuality - Minister of Labor Daley Unable to be Present.

Heavy pressure of business in the Ontario Department of Labor, of which he only assumed charge on Tuesday last, prevented the appearance of Hon. Charles Daley, Minister of Labor, from being present at the meeting of the Grimsby and North Grimsby Progressive-Conservatives on Friday night last in the Masonic hall.

A very large number of gentlemen from all parts of the town and township were on hand and while disappointed that Mr. Daley could not be present were well pleased with the meeting.

Mayor Leeson of Merriton, President of the County Association and L. C. Forester, County Secretary were present and addressed the gathering.

N. J. M. Lockhart, M.P., was given a fine reception when he arose to speak. In speaking to the assemblage Mr. Lockhart said, "You will never regret that you elected Todd Daley. I have known him for 35 years and I know what a fine man he is." Continuing he said, "Todd Daley does not blow hot and cold. If he cannot do something for you he tells you so in an open and honest manner and in a nice way."

With regard to the recent election, said Mr. Lockhart, "I am satisfied that there are a great many people, who voted C.C.F. on August 4th, that would not do so again."

Made Tremendous Impression

Labor Minister Daley Conferred With His Departmental Heads at Queen's Park.

Labor Minister Charles Daley made a "tremendous" impression on departmental heads when he conferred with them at Queen's Park, Toronto, it has been learned from a reliable source.

The new labor leader conferred with about 15 heads of various labor department officers in his office. Deputy Minister J. M. Marsh introduced Mr. Daley to the officials and he later visited departmental offices.

The labor minister's attitude and remarks were kindly and understanding and our informant said that Mr. Daley made a deep impression on officers and members of the department, and his attitude was appreciated.

In speaking to the assembly of department heads Labor Minister Daley is quoted as saying: "I have"

Township Sheep Killed By Dogs

Walter Wilcox Suffers Loss of Five - Canines Destroy Seven Turkeys on Farm of James Monaghan.

Dogs on the rampage in North Grimsby township, in the Ridge Road west and Grimsby sections are causing farmers some loss of livestock and a lot of worry.

After Wilcox, living south of the Ridge Road west, east of the Woolverton mountain, suffered the loss last week of five sheep that had been worried and killed by dogs.

Farther south, at Grassies the dogs visited the farm of James Monaghan and killed seven half-grown turkeys.

Back in Caistor, farmers have been troubled all summer with a pack of dogs that were attacking young cattle in the fields. By tracking them down the dogs have been killed but there are still two roaming in that territory that are causing farmers much worry.

Drivers Ignoring Instructions

Busses Still Being Backed up on Main Street—Two Drivers Park in Front of Fire Hydrant in 15 Minutes.

Bus drivers for the Canada Coach Lines are paying little or no attention to their instructions.

At the time the late Dr. Clarke was killed arrangements were made whereby all coaches that were to go around, would do so by going around the block. This is not being entirely lived up to by the drivers.

Other infractions of regulations and the law of the land are being made. On Saturday afternoon last, a driver pulled up on Main street, facing west. He backed up against west bound traffic, in front of Rushon's barber shop and in so doing would have knocked a young lad off a bicycle had not Clara Rushon let a yell out of him.

The driver then parked the bus in front of the hydrant at this point and Mr. Rushon warned him about it and a cross-fire of words took place. Finally the driver pulled his vehicle farther up (Continued on page 6)

Magnetic Power Of Advertising

One Classified Advertisement in The Independent Works a Miracle—Will do The Same For You.

For over half a century, advertising has been, and still is, the backbone of all lines of business. In fact advertising is the power, the magnet, if used in the proper medium, of our whole life.

That The Independent is the advertising medium in this district which obtains large and beneficial results has been proven thousands of times in the past. Another illuminating example of the mighty power of Independent advertising was brought to light last week.

Two weeks ago a certain gentleman in North Grimsby placed a set of solidly constructed wooden steps on the lake bank for use of people going swimming. Shortly thereafter the steps disappeared. He placed the following advertisement in the classified section of this paper:

"LOST—One set of old wooden steps. Probably washed away by the storms. Finder please call"

On Sunday he visited the lake and lo and behold there were the steps, exactly in the same spot as they had been originally. Washed back by the storms. Such is the magnetic power of Independent advertising.

HEROIC ACTION BY YOUNG LADS

Two 10-year-old Boys Use Their Heads And Avert a Drowning Accident at Grimsby Beach Recently.

AMERICAN VISITORS

Gerry Scott and Bobby Summers Rescue Little Girl While Grown-ups Stand on Pier And Watch.

Two little 10 year old boys, by their presence of mind and swimming ability, undoubtedly saved the life of a young girl at Grimsby Beach a week ago Saturday.

Doreen Veach, an American summer visitor at the Beach was swimming off the pier. On the pier were a number of children and adults. The little girl was seen to be in trouble and struggling to keep above water. No one seemed to know just what to do except Gerry Scott, son of L.A.C. Douglas and Mrs. Scott of Grimsby and Bobby Summers, also an American summer visitor.

The two young lads quickly took in the situation and diving into the water grabbed the lift raft floating at the side of the pier and swimming with one arm and pulling the life raft with the other they reached the little girl before she sank for the first time.

The lads got her on the raft and brought her safely ashore. While weak and wobbly she did not require artificial respiration.

As this near drowning occurred at 11:40 in the morning no life (Continued on page 6)

Will Complete Term As Mayor

Labor Minister Daley Will Not Retire From Civic Office Until End of The Year.

Labor Minister Charles Daley told The St. Catharines Standard on Saturday that he would complete his present term as mayor of St. Catharines. "Naturally, I will not be able to devote the same time to the mayor's office that I did previously, but I plan to be at the municipal building on Friday afternoons and Saturday mornings, and will deal with any other important items during the week from Toronto," the mayor said. He also plans to preside at council meetings about twice monthly.

There had been some speculation as to whether the mayor would resign or complete his term in view of his appointment to the labor ministry. Advised of this situation, Mayor Daley said he would remain in office and pointed to the fact that David Crui had completed his term as mayor of Windsor after his appointment as labor minister several years ago. When the mayor completes his term about 4 1/2 months' hence he will have established a record for length of service in the mayor's office in St. Catharines.

Young Ladies Sell Savings Stamps

Red, White and Blue Pressed Lasses Dispose of $70.00 Worth on Saturday.

For the past month the Stedman store has been concentrating on the sale of War Savings Stamps, with fair success as all the stamps were being made in the store.

On Saturday last five young ladies, supplied by the I.O.D.E. under the co-sponsorship of Mrs. Buchanan, conducted stamp sales on the street in front of the store. The girls were dressed in Red, White and Blue uniforms and were successful in selling $70 worth of the stamps.

The sale will be continued all this week and on Saturday the young ladies will again be on duty and it is hoped that they will succeed in disposing of more stamps than last week.

The sales girls were Margaret McVicar, Geraldine Marsh, Betty Fisher, Marylyn Millyard and Betty Muchmore of Toronto.

Sudden Freezing Order Is Issued

Like Bolt From Blue Came Order Stopping Sales of Jams, Jellies, Honey—Will be Rationed After Sept. 2.

The Prices Board announced Sunday night that rationing of honey, jams, jellies and marmalades will go into effect Thursday, Sept. 2, and ordered suspension from midnight Sunday night until the opening of business Sept. 2 of all sales or deliveries of those commodities to consumers.

The announcement said details of the rationing plan will be announced within a week.

The suspension order means that no further sales of these commodities or deliveries on orders already accepted, may be made to householders, hotels, restaurants, institutions, industrial users, or others consuming these commodities for eating purposes. Hotels, restaurants, which normally serve these commodities to their customers may continue to do so, but may not buy or accept delivery of supplies during the suspension period.

The only sales now permitted are those to wholesalers and retailers, or other persons who buy for resale (Continued on page 6)

Cigarettes Are Reaching The Boys Over There Right on Time—And How They Appreciate Them—Keep Them Going.

FUNDS NEEDED

One Boy Writes—"Of All The Places In The World I Would Like to be Right Now, It Is Grimsby."

As the following letters from overseas will attest, the regular shipments of cigarettes from the Grimsby Chamber of Commerce Cigarette Fund are reaching the boys right on the button.

To keep the supply flowing Cammy Millyard must have more money. Read these letters, realize how deeply the lads appreciate the cigs and then drop a few shillings in the glass bottles on the store counters or drop in at Cammy's store and tear a loadskin or too off the bank roll.

30th Jan., 1943.

Gentlemen,
Once again I have the pleasure of receiving 300 cigarettes from you. Canadian cigarettes are a welcome gift to the boys over here, more so, when they are from their own home towns.

I had just gotten back off nine days' well earned leave, and needless to say, fresh out of smokes. When I handed my pass in at the orderly room I was told that there was a parcel of cigarettes for me. (Continued on page 8)

No person who has not visited this spot has any idea of the modern methods and machinery that are used in producing a crop of honey. So we asked Robert Merritt, nephew of Mr. Moore to write us a story about the "honey and the bee" and here it is—Ed.)

The beekeeper's year usually begins sometime in May when he brings his bees out of their winter insulation. If the bees are good conscientious bees they immediately start gathering fruit bloom nectar and pollen. From then on the beekeeper is busy until fall preventing swarming, adding hives (called supers) in which the bees store surplus honey, killing skunks, preventing the spread of disease, and pacifying indignant neighbours.

In our case the supers, full of honey (we hope) are left on the hives until extracting begins. Each day about thirty supers are brought in from the out-apiaries to the honey house. Then follows the (Continued on page 7)

LINCOLN RIDING HONORED

(St. Catharines Standard)

Lincoln Riding glories in the announcement that their member, Charles Daley, Mayor of St. Catharines, has been selected by Premier-designate George Drew as the Minister of Labor in the new Ontario Progressive Conservative Government.

The honor to the local member was not altogether unexpected, for Mr. Daley's long experience in municipal office has made him a man well qualified for a Cabinet position. While it has been suggested that he would be well suited as Minister of Municipal Affairs, yet he has that touch with the working man which should fit him for his new task as Minister of Labor.

The appointment marks the first time in history that Lincoln County has been represented in the Provincial Cabinet. Past members of the Legislature have served with distinction, but never in the inner circle at Queen's Park.

There will be those who will ask "what does a grocer know about labor," but a corner grocer, dealing with the wives of the working men, and the men themselves, learns much about the trials and difficulties of the laboring man. And Charles Daley was, in his earlier days, a carpenter, and one's early memories usually remain keen. The task of Minister of Labor is an onerous one, but Charles Daley, will undoubtedly handle it well, giving to it, as he has done the many problems facing him as Mayor of St. Catharines, his undivided attention.

And while the honor has fallen upon Lincoln's member, it has also fallen upon his wife. Mrs. Daley has been the true helpmate of her husband throughout his varied career. She was proud when he was chosen as alderman, she delighted in his selection as Mayor and later as Member. And now she is proud indeed of her husband, the Minister of Labor.

Yes, Mrs. Daley is proud, as any wife would be, but she has not let the honors conferred upon her husband go to her head. She is a quite-spoken, friendly woman who enjoys doing the homely task, who delights in fraternizing with other women and who at all times retains the common touch.

It is recorded that an ambitious man with a good wife will go far; Ted Daley is an ambitious man, he has a good wife and he has gone far. Nor do we believe that he has fully climbed to the heights which he will achieve.

HOW FAR THE LOOTERS WENT

The announcement that olive oil had to be shipped to Sicily along with other Allied supplies for the population shows how far the Nazi robbers went in looting the territory they controlled.

Shipping olive oil to Sicily is like sending wheat to Manitoba or Peaches to Toronto.

Sicily is the home of olive oil. But the Sicilians, it is clear, did not get to keep any of their product. Germany must be well fed, there must be olive oil for the salads of the Nazis, even though the men and women who produced olive oil starved.

This is the Nazi system of looting that has been applied to all Europe—no doubt more ruthlessly in the lands conquered than in such places as Sicily, supposedly under the rule of a "collaborator."

When you spend money at home, it enables your fellow citizens to do more to make the home town prosperous and provide new advantages for it.

VITAL WEEKLIES

Well-deserved tribute to the weekly press, says The Financial Post, as made by Walter P. Zeller at the annual meeting of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association in Toronto last week. Said the president of Zellers Limited:

"Few bear heavier responsibilities than you gentlemen. Your relation to the people you serve is most intimate. You survive because you are trusted. Your influence in the molding of public opinion has long been praised. I firmly believe that upon you will rest in large measure the final attitude of a host of Canadians who ponder the postwar Canada."

This is strong praise indeed, but it is deserved. The local newspaper with its faithful chronicling of the news and aspirations of its community maintains intimate contact with its readers.

To such publications, the building of a new bridge on Main Street, or a new church around the corner, is not some mere construction item to be dismissed in a single line of type, but a new community development affecting the lives and fortunes of the citizens served. Only the local editor, living in that community and depending on it for his livelihood, can really appraise such a development.

In the last 50 years, grievous casualties have been suffered by these Canadian weekly newspapers. Probably a third of them disappeared or merged with survivors. This is the inevitable price of increasing costs, but out of this period of test is developing a local weekly publication as modern and well printed as the biggest daily, and an institution firmly imbedded in the life of the community.

ARE YOU A GRUMBLER?

There are two classes of discontented folk in the world. Firstly, there are those who see around them mistakes, unfairness, and avoidable hardships,—and set about to use their energy and their brains to make constructive criticism, to help put things straight wherever they can for the benefit of the community.

In the second category are the plain grumblers, who lift up their voices on the subject of their own discomforts and wrongs and by doing so spread gloom and unease amongst their neighbours. They cannot get this or that—they cannot get all the sugar they wanted for canning—household shopping takes longer, and many of the ready-made foods have gone.—On all these topics the grumblers behave as if they were the only sufferers from this World War No. 2.

What is happening to women in other parts of the World?—In England, 1,000,000 homes have been destroyed; in France, freedom-loving people have lost their freedom. All over Europe mothers are watching their children die of starvation and tuberculosis; in Russia, women see their menfolk hanged by the Nazis.

In Canada we can go to bed secure in the knowledge that our homes are a very long way away from the front line. We know that there is food for our children on the morrow, and that there is ample for adequate nutrition for all Canadians in whatever work they are engaged.

In view of what other women of the Allied Nations are taking, it seems a little ridiculous that anyone should grumble because of any minor inconvenience caused by wartime rules and regulations, designed to get more materials to our fighting men.

IT MAY PUZZLE THE OLD GENT

It's progress, we presume. At any rate, there are no snags, no runs, and no holes to darn nowadays. And a twisted seam is no longer the bane of the fastidious.

In fact, the entire order of things is much more orderly. For instance, towels are back on the bathroom rod now where the number nines used to drip and dry. Bureau drawers are noticeably more roomy, and the darned silk may be found in its proper place—anyone should happen to look at it for memory's sake.

So it must be progress. Certainly no one would want to go back to black cottons. Or even wartime rayons, with their queer shapes and wrinkled knees. And yet, somehow, they had their points. When one picked them up, there was the feel of texture. One was conscious of form and color and the usual dimensions of a material's object. He wasn't just clutching a bottle.

Today a pair of stockings is just something you shake well and pour into the pail of the hand. A few magic passes and there they are.

Oh, it's progress, of course, in having hosiery to rinse out or mend, but something tells us that our old friend Santa is going to get quite a surprise when he finds bottle hanging by the fireplace next December.

Howison's Sketches, Part III

The Niagara District in 1818 offered opportunity to John Howison to comment at some length on the effect of the war of 1812-14 on Upper Canadian settlers. He points out that it had interrupted the progressive, though slow improvement being made. The people had been forced to leave their farms, many of which became neglected, land was left waste, cattle were carried away, and buildings often burned by the enemy.

But, unfortunately, he points out, the military establishments brought an influx of money and the people, forgetting their distresses, thought they were on the highway to wealth. Everything could be sold at double its value and pockets were soon filled with army bills. People were led into buying large quantities of goods from Montreal, stores became numerous and their owners gave unlimited credit.

The end of the war and withdrawal of troops brought a sad reverse. Circulation of money ceased and debts became burdensome. Many seemed to have lost the spirit of industry and were unwilling to return to their ravaged farms. Cattle had to be bought from the Americans and the country was further drained of money. The merchants found they could not collect from their debtors, though the Montreal dealers pressed for payment. To have forced payments by law would have ruined two thirds of the farmers in the province. So in hope of improvement both decided on a policy of temporizing.

Howison visited a village of Tuscarora Indians near Lewiston, of some 300 people. Recently one hundred others had left for the Grand river and those remaining professed Christianity. "What prevented the others from receiving the faith?" Howison asked a Squaw who could speak English. "Oh, the same devil, I suppose that makes the white people so bad," she replied. A Mr. Crane was missionary to these Indians.

The traveller-writer devotes a whole chapter to Niagara Falls. Table Rock in those days apparently extended much further out than it does to-day. Mr. Howison says that by lying down on it with his face over the edge he could extend his hand till it reached the falling water. He tried it only once and says he did not quickly forget it.

The country about the falls was beautiful and highly cultivated. Several houses stood not far from the falls, one of them was the home of Samuel Street and another, near Table Rock, belonged to Hon. Thomas Clark. The Welland river was 300 feet wide at Chippawa with a depth of eight to twelve feet for thirty miles up.

Lumber was floated down the Welland to the Clark and Street saw-mill. Durham boats and batteaux constantly left Chippawa carrying goods up the lake. The country southward along the river was largely settled by Dutch. Visiting Buffalo village he found it full of bustle but heard most of the houses were mortgaged.

He visited Manchester (apparently Niagara Falls, N.Y.) to see a bridge recently built by Hon. Augustus Porter to Goat Island.

Several horseback trips were made along the Lake Erie beach by Mr. Howison. On one he rode as far as the mouth of the Grand or Ouse River some eighty miles. He found the land level and sparsely settled. "About eight o'clock one morning, stopping at a small tavern for breakfast I found an independent host," he writes. "In true American fashion he answered each question I put by asking another and showed such extreme curiosity about my affairs, that nothing but the fear of violent treatment prevented him from examining my portmanteau."

Most taverns, he writes, were businesses on what they professed to be. Several visited had not even bread and whatever the traveller might ask for, the same articles appeared on the table at each meal.

"If the mistress has no tea she will send one of the children into the woods to gather parts of evergreen, hemlock, hickory and other noxious things and having made an infusion will ask the astonished guest if the tea is strong enough."

One evening, having lost his way, he reached the door of a log house. About the door outside he found a group gathered while inside the one-roomed dwelling on a bed lay an old man dying. A boy stood near holding a flaming bark torch for light. The man's wife was with the group outside and was cooking some food over a fire and weeping constantly. Presently the boy called to them "Come, he's going". All came in and soon the man's breathing ceased. Three men laid out the corpse. The woman placed a little under the head and plate of salt on the breast.

Howison notes in another incident the shames of medical aid among settlers. He had stopped at a log hut of a Scotch settler and found the family in great distress about the bed of the mother, dying in childbirth with no doctor to tend her.

The last twelve miles of his ride to the Grand river was through uninhabited country. A naval and military post stood at the river mouth and two gunboats and two government schooners lay at anchor. Large boats could travel thirty miles up river.

The Earl of Selkirk was the absent owner of a large tract of land and a grant of six miles wide each side the river had been made to the Mohawk Indians. These Indians were prone to drop agriculture and take to the woods for hunting and had learned little from the whites except to copy their vices. Government gift distributions were usually followed by sales of the articles to whites, the Indians spending the proceeds on spirits followed by much drunkenness and fatal fighting.

A Major Norton, who had married an Indian woman, seemed to have much influence with the Indians. He had led a band of them in the war.

Howison remarks on the presence of beds of gypsum or sulphate of lime at the Grand river. The first bed belonged to William Dickson in Dumfries township and he allowed farmers to remove as much as they pleased. It was used as fertilizer.

On his return ride to Chippawa Mr. Howison became lost for several hours and decided to spend the night at the first house he could find. Several people sat around the fire drinking cider and cracking hickory nuts. An Indian slept in a corner. He was described as harmless except when drunk, Robin Turkey Foot, as he was called, had skulked in the woods along which Americans might pass during the war shooting or tomahawking any stranger and plunging him. One of the party attempted a war whoop. Turkeyfoot walked and began to whoop in great style. "I asked him how many Americans he had scalped?" writes Howison. "Eleven" replied Turkeyfoot. "That's all, would kill more but Yankee too smart." He is described as tall, well made, with sparkling eyes and long black hair, and with a ferocity of countenance that seemed to fit him for such deeds as he told.

Wife Of New Minister Of Labor A Gracious And Charming Woman

Sharing the honors conferred upon her husband by the people of Lincoln and Premier George Drew, is no new thing to Mrs. Charles Daley, First Lady of St. Catharines, and wife of Hon. Charles Daley, Minister of Labor in the new Ontario government.

Step by step Mrs. Daley has moved upward with her husband, since the first day that he decided to become an aldermanic candidate in the County Town. In success and reverse she has toiled with him, advised him and shared his burdens. She has lived and worked for her husband, her children and her home.

She was born Leola Elizabeth Dymes in the Town of Ingersoll and when a child of 11 years came to St. Catharines with her parents to reside. She was educated in St. Catharines schools and upon graduation from business college went to work as a stenographer with the "Tele-Towne Mfg. Co. She then met Todd Daley and soon became betrothed, with the result that they took the marriage vows on New Year's Day, 1921. By coincidence their eldest daughter was married on New Year's Day 1943, which was a banner day in the Daley household, for the father was that day returned as Mayor of the city for the fifth consecutive term.

Three sons and one daughter have blessed this union, Maxine, married to Sgt.-Cmr. Ronald Turton, R.C.A.F. instructor at Fingall; Lance-Corp. Kenneth in the active army at Brampton and John Arthur and James Irwin, school boys, at home. A sister of Mrs. Daley, Rhoda, is married to Arthur Daley, Niagara-on-the-Lake, a brother of Todd.

Mrs. Daley is a very gracious woman and a charming hostess, with the knack of being completely at home in any kind of company and in this way has been of very material assistance to her husband in carrying out his many and varied duties as Mayor of a thriving and progressive city.

She has always been active in women's organizations and is an executive member of the I.O.D.E., St. Catharines branch of The Navy League and the Red Cross, as well as an active worker in the First United church.

THE GRIMSBY INDEPENDENT

Grimsby Girl Is Tennis Champion

Grimsby has a tennis champion of no mean ability. She is Miss Jean Pettit, daughter of O. Mel-drum and Mrs. Pettit, Ontario street.

Miss Jean has been attending the Queen's Summer School Association classes at Queen's University, Kingston, during the summer and at the finish of the curriculum, the tennis championships were decided.

In the ladies singles she proved the winner, also the winner of the ladies doubles teamed with another Grimsby lady, Mrs. Carl King (Flora Aiton) and won the mixed doubles teamed with J. H. Jacobson.

Jean has three silver cups to attest to her prowess with the racket and ball. She also has at home on the mantle three silver cups that she won last year at Kingston in the same three competitions, making it two consecutive years that she has made a clean sweep of the tennis courts at this point.

Most everything can be controlled by the government except the weather.

Navy League New

Mrs. John Vooges, in charge of the hand-worked spread donated by Mrs. Sarah Trant, Grimsby Beach, wishes to announce that the drawing will take place on Saturday evening, August 28th, at St. Joseph's Bazaar, held on the Rectory grounds, Paton street.

Schools To Open September 7th

Premier Drew, who also holds the portfolio of education minister, Saturday said Ontario schools would open Sept. 7 in accordance with the statute. He added that every school board had the authority to defer the opening of their schools for two weeks.

Seek Recruits For R.C.A.F. (W.D.)

Assistant Section Officer C. D. McCuaig of No. 10 Recruiting Centre R.C.A.F., Hamilton, arrived in town on Monday and is spending the next few days here. The object of A. S. O. McCuaig's visit to Grimsby is to interest the local young women in the opportunities offered in the Women's Division of the R.C.A.F. and also to acquaint them with the urgent need for women recruits.

A recruiting depot has been opened in Hillier's old store. Each girl who enlists is trained to take over a man's job, thus releasing men for aircrew, which is so urgently needed right now. There are thousands of boys, tied to ground jobs, just waiting their hours to learn to fly and every new W.D. recruit makes it possible for one of these boys to take up flying or other aircrew training. In the month of July over 750 men in ground trades were able to re-muster to aircrew when that many airwomen took over their jobs.

"I am terribly enthusiastic about recruiting," said Mrs. McCuaig "and I feel that I am in a position to convince the fathers and mothers of girls, who are interested in joining the Air Force, that service life is really a grand thing for the girls themselves and they are actually receiving something in return for their contribution to our war effort. Besides learning a trade which will benefit them in civil life, they learn to take responsibility, and acquire self-confidence, self-reliance, self discipline and many other qualities not as necessary in civilian life as they are in the service. I have a daughter in the service and I can speak with authority. My own experiences in service life have made it possible for me to sincerely recommend it to every girl who wishes to serve her country and, at the same time, improve herself. It will improve her posture, her health, her mental alertness and take her out of a rut. A girl's health and welfare are given every consideration and her advancement in the service is automatic with her trade proficiency. She doesn't need to wait for years to fill someone else's shoes as she does in civil life."

"There are over 40 trades open to airwomen. Those who are already trained and have had experience in their trades, such as stenographers, bookkeepers, telephone operators, transport drivers, dental assistants and many others, find places waiting for them to take over immediately, while girls without previous training are given courses of training in trades for which they are best suited and show a natural aptitude before they are posted to stations."

In private life A. S. O. McCuaig is the wife of Brig.-General G. Eric McCuaig, C.M.G., D.S.O. (and bar) V.D., Chairman-in-Chief of Officers' Selection and Appraisal Boards for Eastern Canada. Until early in May General McCuaig commanded the Hamilton-Niagara Military Area and is well-known throughout this district.

"My husband is terribly keen about the important work being done by the women in the services," said Mrs. McCuaig. "He encouraged us to enlist and is very proud of both my daughter and myself and the work we are doing. He feels very strongly, as many other officers do, that women who are within the age limits, physically fit and without responsibilities at home, should be willing and proud to serve their country and back up our men in the fighting forces."

Saint Peter Lost The Pearly Gates

The boys around town are telling a good story on Jimmy Wray, the Sultan of Salvage. It seems that Jimmy went up to Heaven. He told St. Peter about the salvage work he had done on earth, but the old saint was puzzled. "Never heard of that kind of work. Wait here until I look it up in the files." Ten minutes later St. Peter returned. Jimmy was gone. So were the gates of heaven.

Obituary

MRS. SAMUEL WARNER

The passing in St. Catharines on Tuesday of Mrs. Samuel Warner, will come as a distinct shock to her many friends in this district where she resided for many years.

Deceased was born in England and came to this country after the last war. She was a member of St. Andrew's church.

She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, one daughter, Mrs. A. E. DeForest, St. Catharines, and four sons, Ross of Hamilton, Frederick, Douglas and Wallace at home.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon. Interment in Lakeside cemetery, St. Catharines.

MIRIAM LAWRENCE HAWKE

Citizens of Grimsby were deeply shocked on Friday evening last, August 26th, to learn of the sudden demise in Hamilton hospital of Miriam Lawrence, second daughter of A. F. and Mrs. Hawke, 61 Main East.

The deceased young lady had been in Grimsby on her holidays, with her three sisters, at the parental home and appeared to be in excellent health. She was suddenly taken ill and removed to hospital where an operation was performed from which she seemed to be making good recovery when a sudden relapse occurred and she passed away.

Miss Hawke had been a popular resident of this town since birth. She had been educated in Grimsby schools and the Ontario College of Art where she took up Commercial Designing. After finishing her art course she was connected with the Russell T. Kelley Advertising Agency of Hamilton for some time and then secured a position with the Canada Life Insurance Co., and had been with their art department for over 10 years.

She is survived by her parents and three sisters, Miss Bernice and Mrs. K. J. R. Wightman of Toronto and Mrs. Richard E. Roberts of New York City.

Funeral services were held from the home of her parents on Sunday afternoon and were largely attended.

Rev. W. J. Watt, Trinity United church, officiated. Interment being in Queen's Lawn Cemetery.

Casket bearers were: Richard E. Roberts, K. J. R. Wightman, Harold Littlejohn, Harvey Hazelwood, John VanDuzer and George Marr.

"Five Survived"

By D. W. Pettit, A.S.M.

Seven Scouts left Grimsby on Monday, August 9 for an eight-day bicycle hike to Lake Erie. The equipment taken was very light compared with other hikes. Each Scout had, 1 shelter tent, 4 blankets, eating utensils, soap, towel, tooth brush and a change of clothing. This formed a very light kit, making cycling easy.

Grimsby faded into the early mists of morning at 7.50 a.m. and the great convoy of blankets and tents rolled onward. With puffs and groans the top of the Stoney Creek cut on No. 30 Highway was reached at 9.00 a.m. Here the first real halt came while the gang filled their tanks with fresh air—the air with a country tang. From here the hatchets and frying pans rattled along to highway No. 53.

While on Highway 53, west of Elfrida, Sec. Donald Catton ran in to opposition with some loose gravel. As a result some nasty cuts and scrapes were received on his knee and arm. These were cleaned and dressed, the bike repaired and away we went all like new—just about. When noon rolled around the convoy was still "somewhere on 53" so a halt was called at the first school—not to find out if 2 plus 2 still made 4—but it was eating time. Tender morsels of grub were then devoured in large quantities and an hour's rest taken.

At 1.15 p.m., Highway No. 3 was reached—with marked joy. The route then followed along No. 3 to Alberton where we changed direction almost due south. Travelling for about six miles across country roads the ferry on the Grand River appeared—as a speck. From the ferry we followed the river road to Caledonia where supper was had and camp was made for the first night about one-half mile from town.

Leaving Caledonia at 9.30 next morning, cook included, the gang moved off on Highway No. 4 to Jarvis, then to Renton via No. 2 Highway. Port Dover was the next stop after leaving Renton, then to Port Ryerse via a lakeshore road.

Port Ryerse at first appeared to be only suitable for a night's stop. A few minutes later there proved to be a group of very hospitable people holidaying in this spot as we were offered a fine camping site. There was to be no charge and we were welcome to stay as long as we wished—this was great. We had the use of a boat house in which to house our bikes and equipment—things were really rosy.

Instantly Cook Schwab set up the "kitchen" and supper was underway—then under. Our group stayed at Port Ryerse for the remainder of the week. One day a cycle trip was taken to Norman-dale to see the Government Fish Hatcheries, another day took us to inspect a nearby Y.M.C.A. camp. We also had the use of two boats in which many chaps learned to row.

Sunday some of the Scouts' friends and parents visited the camp including Mr. and Mrs. Catton, Mr. and Mrs. Grieg, Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman and Mr. and Mrs. Jacklin. Leroy Zimmerman returned home with his parents as he was not feeling very well as he wasn't "homesickness."

Monday saw pegs pulled and tents downed and the gang started to go once more. The conv. then went back to Port Ryerse via a new route. Here we spent the night with Mrs. Beatty who once taught school at Hagar's and the mountain school. She very kindly gave us the use of her cooking utensils and a cabin for sleeping, as they ran a service station.

Tuesday Remembrance with happy memories was left behind and our noses were pointed homeward. At Warner, Don Catton had another accident and had to call "Dad". Five was the number that reached home at 4 p.m. after six hours' cycling—and still a few kicks left. Therefore "Five Survived."

All camping equipment must be turned in to the S.M. or A.S.M. before the end of this week.

A trebles tournament for the Millyard trophy was the feature event at the Grimsby Beach bowling green on Saturday afternoon with an entry of 25 bowlers. Arthur Clark and partners captured the trophy with three wins and 37 closely followed by Alexander McGowan. Following were the scores of the three prize winners: J. Jarrett, G. Gamble and A. Clark, three wins and 37; C. Rhodes, H. Muir, A. McGowan, two wins and 35; J. Storr, C. Kettle, B. Coward, two wins and 36. Fourth, C. Evans, L. Johnston and J. Shingleton, two wins and 36.

Peach Kings Take St. Mary's 15-0

Runs and errors were thicker at the ball field last night than Peaches in the Fruit Belt. Peach Kings gathered in no less than 15 tallies against the St. Mary's team, to their goose egg, in the second of their play-off games in the O.S.A. class "C" division.

Johnny Belcott was in fine form on the mound for the Kings and ticked up seven strike-outs three of them in the last frame. He helped win his own game in the first inning with a home run with one on base. Ham. Fox had a homer with two on and Whitfield clouted out a four bagger with one on.

St. Mary's did not play anything like the game they showed up last week in the Stone Town when the Kings were all out to beat them 4-2 with Belcott having a 11 strike-outs. They made plenty of errors which meant King scores. It is not known yet where the Kings go from here in the next round of the playdowns.

Notice to Interested Employers and Employees

AT ITS 1943 Session, the Parliament of Canada amended the Unemployment Insurance Act, 1940. The effect of these amendments is to require that additional workers be covered under unemployment insurance.

On and after September 1st, 1943, employers must make contributions in respect of the following employees:

★ (1) ALL PERSONS engaged in employment hitherto insurable, regardless of the amount of earnings, who may be paid on an hourly rate, on a daily rate, on a weekly rate, or a piece rate (including a mileage rate).

★ (2) ALL EMPLOYEES paid on a monthly or annual salary basis, whose salary, including any cost of living bonus which may be received, does not exceed $2,400 a year.

All employees, as above described, must pay their contributions as required by law.

The combined contribution for each employee earning $26 or more a week will be in Class 7—63c a week.

To Employers: Obtain unemployment insurance books from the nearest local office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission as soon as possible, for employees above described who will become insurable on September 1st, 1943.

To Employees: It is in your interest to see that your employer makes contributions on your behalf from September 1st, 1943, if you become insurable through this Amendment.

WARNING COAL WILL BE SCARCE NEXT WINTER !!!

Prepare your home now for adequate warmth with smaller fuel consumption

TO SAVE COAL CHECK THESE POINTS

✓ HOW TO GET MORE HEAT

Pipes and furnaces must be clean, and gas in good order. If one or two rooms are hard to heat, you are wasting fuel. A minor adjustment can probably remedy this. Have a competent man check your heating system, and make necessary repairs. Insulate your furnace and pipes where necessary.

✓ HOW TO AVOID HEAT LOSSES

Some windows and doors must fit snugly and be weathershipped. Lack of storm windows can cause as much as 20% heat loss. Caulking should be done around windows and doors and in cracks in brick work (some hard to reach have caulking guns for rent). Broken glass should be replaced, and loose panes put in. Small expenditures on such work will save a lot of fuel.

✓ HOW TO SAVE STILL MORE

You can save fuel and money by having your home properly insulated. It is a proven fact that in many homes lack of adequate insulation (in the form of storm windows) results in unnecessary burning of fuel—up to as much as 50%. Watch for later instructions on how to fire your furnace properly.

HAVE YOUR HOME INSPECTED FOR HEATING AND INSULATION DEFECTS

Get advice now! Skilled workmen and supplies are scarce. If you delay in getting your home ready for winter you may not be able to get the services you need.

sales. In other words, sales to the consuming public are halted, but the normal flow of these commodities to the distributive trades will be permitted, pending the announcement of the new rationing plan which will control all sales.

The announcement said that honey producers are "specially notified" that all sales of honey to consumer customers must cease during the period of suspension, and also that any orders they may have accepted for future delivery of honey may not be completed during that period. After Sept. 2 these sales will be governed by the new rationing plan.

Fifteen minutes after that incident, another bus came east at 1.15. Unloaded. Pulled down Main street to the Cities Service gas station and turned around, backing up to do so. He then proceeded up Main street and parked his bus in front of the hydrant at Rushton's Barber Shop.

This time Fire Chief A.K. LePage came along, located the driver and ordered him to pull the vehicle away from there. The Chief made a note of the bus license number.

There was a car parked behind the bus. The driver pulled up and backed around the car and backed his bus all the way down Main street against west bound traffic, to Jarvis' Bake Shop where he parked and stayed until proceeding west at 2.15.

FEDERAL ELECTION

again, and are now regretting that they did so.

Speaking generally he said, "we have not taken our obligations seriously enough. Take the war, for instance, there are still many, many people that are not yet war conscious."

"So far as the Federal field is concerned," said Mr. Lockhart, "don't worry. You will have a federal election for a year at least, and very doubtful if before a year from next March."

Under the Chairmanship of Mayor E. S. Johnson, election of officers for the Grimsby and North Grimsby associations were held. Clarence Lewis is the new President of the town association and Miss Margaret Allan is Secretary. Ward chairmen will be selected at a later date.

In the township, George Nelles, president and Herb Gillespie, secretary. Division No. 1, Cecil Bevan is Chairman; No. 2, was left open for the time being; No. 3, James Stuart and No. 4, Wm. Palmer.

Mayor Johnson was elected County Vice-President, representing Grimsby and North Grimsby.

It is the intention of the associations to hold a banquet at the Village Inn, some time in October, when Mr. Daley can be present and if at all possible Premier Goo. Drew.

The same man who can make up his mind in a second is the one who has to ponder over a menu for several minutes.

Prime Minister Churchill and Daughter, Mary, Greeted

Quebec.—Ahead of Britain's Prime Minister, Mrs. Churchill descends the steps of the train that brought her husband and daughter Mary, talking to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, back from the United States. Mr. Churchill stopped from the train to a waiting car without a coat despite a rain storm. It was evident to newspapermen present that neither Mrs. Churchill's cheerful enthusiasm nor her husband's cigar were affected by the weather.

The Frank Lalor Trophy

One of the most sought after bowling trophies in the Dominion—The Lalor Trophy, of Dunnville—is in the possession of a Grimsby rink. Last Wednesday four Grimsby bowlers—bowling for the Beamsville Bowling Club—Brock Snyder, Bob Coward, Frank Hurst and Bill Schwab, skip—journeyed to Dunnville where 30 rinks from all over Ontario were participating in the Old Timers' Bowling Tournament. The tournament was won by a Dunnville rink of which Old Bill Fry was a member and it was against this rink that the Grimsbyites played for the grand prize and won out by 7-6. The Lalor Trophy is believed to be the largest sporting trophy in Ontario, in point of size, it being 25 inches square at the base; 22 inches high; 28 inches wide from outside handle to handle; 17½ inches across the top. It is on display in the Model Dairy window. Two weeks ago Brock Snyder was on the Beamsville club rink that won the famous Seagram Trophy at Waterloo.—Cut courtesy, Dunnville Chronicle.

MODERN METHODS
process known as extracting, or getting the honey out of the combs and into large containers. In each super there are seven frames of comb weighing up to ten pounds each. These frames are taken out of their boxes and one by one they are uncapped.

The uncapping process merely is the cutting off of the layer of wax which the bees put over the comb to prevent the honey running out of the cells. We do the uncapping with steam knives, that is, the blades are heated by steam. A lead-in hose from a boiler brings the steam into the knife blade and it then runs out through the drip hose into a condensing hose. Meanwhile the uncapped frames are placed in a rest; box until there are enough to fill the extractor. The cappings, which contain a lot of honey, drop into a machine called the Whirl Dry. Inside the machine there is a metal basket which is constantly revolving and when the cappings drop into this basket the honey is forced out through the screened sides of the basket and the wax stays inside. The honey is drawn off through a tap.

Now we have the frames uncapped and ready for the extractor. Thirty-six frames are placed in a circular framework which revolves about 240 times a minute. The honey is thrown out by centrifugal force and then after about fifteen minutes the frames are taken out, dry. The frames are taken and put back into their boxes and stored away for another year. Some of the combs have been used for twenty years and are still sound.

The honey from the extractor is drawn through a tap and strained into barrels where it is allowed to stand for at least three days to allow air bubbles and small particles of wax to rise to the top where it is skimmed off. Incidentally, good honey has a S.G. of approximately 1.4. It is one and a half times as heavy as water. Before the W.F.T.B. existed the honey was sold after this period of aging. Now we have to wait until Sept. 1. All hail the W.F.T.B.!

When pressed for time "J.O." and crew can haul, extract and barrel 2000 lbs. a day. However, extracting and selling the honey does not end the year for the beekeeper. The wax must be taken out of the Whirl Dry, melted and purified. The bees, robbed of their season's crop must be fed sufficient honey or sugar syrup to last them through the winter.

After feeding, the bees are packed away, in their hives, in insulation to protect them from intense winter cold. The beekeeper then sits down and figures out his income and expenditures. After finding out that he is losing money on his investment he immediately packs up and goes to Florida to worry all winter about it.

LOOSE TALK

"There is much loose thinking and loose talking about the hardships and inconveniences of war restrictions or shortages. We cannot afford in wartime to be sentimental and soft-headed," Donald Gordon, Prices Board chairman told the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association.

AWAY BACK WHEN the present prosperous Town of Grimsby was known as "The Old Forty", the Sage of the Hamlet, in one of his heated debates on matters biblical, was heard to remark, "Why did the Lord give St. Peter the keys? 'Cause He knewed that He knowed'."

THAT'S THE REASON that the officials in charge of the Provincial election selected The Grimsby Independent as the printing plant to turn out the 50,000 ballots required for the polling booths of Lincoln. They knew, that The Independent "knewed", just how to handle a job of that importance in an accurate and efficient manner.

HIGH CLASS EQUIPMENT combined with skillful workmanship, place The Independent at the "top of the heap" in the Niagara Peninsula when fast service and quality production are required by the consumer.

THE REPUTATION of The Independent as a producer of quality printing has been built up over a period of 58 years. Our customers include all the largest business concerns in the district. They demand and receive a quality product at a price that is within reason and a service that is equal to the best city offices.

PEACHES ARE

What a pleasant surprise! We are having glorious weather here at the present time, although while on leave in Ireland it rained every day. But then of course that is to be expected of the old ad. Here and it wouldn't be the Emerald Isle if it didn't have lots of rain.

I see by the papers that the A. & S. H.'s are back in Canada again. If anyone of you happen to run in to my brother Nelson would you ask him to drop me a line? (He is in England, now—Ed.)

Say hello to all in Grimsby 'or me, especially that go-getter "Bones" Livingston, and his four-star paper.

If the fruit farmers could use a little magic and wait themselves and their peaches over to London they could retire for the rest of their lives. Very small peaches are selling in London at 4s each! Around or about $1.00 each! An awful price, isn't it?

Many thanks for the cigarettes, and may success crown your each and every effort.

Thanks again, hope to see you soon.
